Lightstation

JUST off the Great Ocean Road you can visit Australia's most significant lighthouse which is surrounded by the Great Otway National Park, spectacular sea cliffs and deep blue ocean.

From the deck of the 1848 lighthouse experience the heart-pounding thrill and awe-inspiring views from 80m above the Southern Ocean. It's perfect for whale spotting May to October.

Make the most of our fascinating heritage precinct and visit the meticulously restored Telegraph Station (right), built in 1859.

Discover Cape Otway's secret war history. Our World War II Radar Bunker was built in 1942 after a US ship was sunk by a German mine off the Cape.

Join our daily Lightkeeper's Shipwreck Discovery Tour which includes an off-road adventure. Guides will share amazing stories of shipwrecks, survivors, daring pioneers and rugged conditions endured by lightkeepers. We regularly see koalas, wallabies, kangaroos, echidnas and birds.

Children love the Lightstation's school activity program.

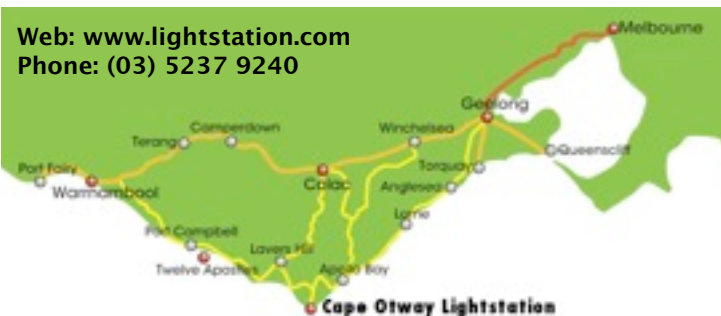

Download our fun KIDZONE activity pack from our website.

Want to stay? Ask about our heritage lightkeeper's cottages and the manager's house - they're great getaways.

In the 1840s the Lightstation was a welcome sight for European immigrants who'd spent three months at sea. Today, visitors enjoy the architecture, history, wildlife spotting, peace, tranquillity, remote beauty and delicious food.
